

LORA BIDNER

Objective/Statement:

I've gained so much from being apart of our amazing and oh-so supportive SCGC community; now it's my turn to start giving back. I think having a diversity of perspectives and backgrounds is what creates the healthy flora and fauna needed to represent such a broad span of Canadian composers that stretch all throughout Canada, as well as those living abroad. It is of paramount importance to me that we as a collective fortify our strength in this ever changing industry and continue to make our voices heard

Bio:

Lora Bidner is an award-winning Screen-Composer and Singer-Songwriter. Known for her gift in strong melody writing and creating evocative vocal textures, Bidner has scored and written original songs for over 80 short and feature length films, video games, TV series, and theatrical plays. She holds a Masters of Music Technology from the University of Toronto, and is an alumni of the Slight Family Music Lab at the Canadian Film Centre. To learn more about Lora, visit her website at www.lorabidner.com
